Regional Manager, PacificAus Sports Program

Location: Pacific region, Fiji (Suva) preferred
Employment type: Independent contractor, fixed term to June 2030
Working arrangement: Remote, in-region role
Travel: Frequent travel across the Pacific, with visits to Sydney
Reporting line: Project Director, Pacific Partnership

Your role in the Olympic story

Be the AOC's primary in-region representative for PacificAus Sport. Working across the Pacific, you will strengthen pathways for athletes, coaches and administrators, build trusted partnerships across the region, and share the stories that show the impact of Australia's Pacific sport partnerships on the road to LA28 and Brisbane 2032.

How you will contribute

- Lead in-region communications, media engagement and content that showcase programme impact.
- Support the delivery of PacificAus Sport activities with National Olympic Committees, sports and regional partners.
- Build trusted relationships with the Oceania National Olympic Committees (ONOC), Pacific governments, Australian High Commissions and delivery partners.
- Coordinate monitoring, evaluation and reporting so the programme meets its Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) commitments.
- Represent the AOC at regional meetings, events and Games-related activities.
- Share insight on risks and opportunities to support sound programme decisions.

Your expertise

- Substantial experience in Pacific sport, government, communications or international relations, including experience gained through different pathways.
- Strong communication, media and stakeholder engagement skills, with diplomacy and sound judgement.
- A connection to and/or understanding of Pacific cultures and communities.
- Experience coordinating programmes, reporting and partnerships across more than one country.
- The ability to work independently and travel frequently across the region.

Experience that could help you thrive

- Experience with the Olympic, Paralympic or Commonwealth Games movements, or major sporting events.
- Knowledge of Australian Government development programmes and reporting.
- Experience working with media across Pacific nations.

We value different experiences and career journeys. If you believe you have the skills to contribute and make an impact, we encourage you to apply.

What you can expect from us

- The flexibility to work from your base in the Pacific region.
- Close work with senior regional and international sport stakeholders.
- Exposure to the Olympic and Paralympic movements on the road to LA28 and Brisbane 2032.
- The chance to strengthen sport pathways for Pacific athletes, coaches and administrators.

What happens next

- Submit your resume, cover letter and responses to application questions.
- Applications close Wednesday 18 November 2026.
- We'll keep you updated and advise you of the outcome.
- Suitable applicants may be considered for future opportunities.
- Need an adjustment at any stage? Contact us on Careers@olympics.com.au
- Pre-employment checks include a police check, confirmation of work rights in your country of residence, and safeguarding and child-protection screening will be required.

Everyone belongs here

At the AOC, we want our team to reflect the diversity of Australia and the athletes and communities we support. We welcome people of all backgrounds, identities, experiences and career journeys. We especially encourage applications from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, people with disability, and current and former athletes. If this opportunity interests you but you don't meet every point listed, we still encourage you to apply.

For this role, we especially encourage applications from people of Pacific Island heritage and people with strong connections to Pacific communities.

Inspiring Australians since 1920

The Australian Olympic Committee (AOC) selects, leads and supports Australian Olympic Teams and advances the Olympic Movement in Australia. We bring together athletes, sports, staff, officials and partners to help Australians experience the power of the Olympic Games and to create a positive impact through sport. Through PacificAus Sport, funded by the Australian Government through the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT), we work with partners across the Pacific to strengthen sport and its benefits for communities.

We stand for Respect – Perseverance – Excellence – Integrity – Courage – Teamwork.
